The Evangelical Ministers. The evangelical ministers held their monthly meeting yesterday, and discussed "Christian Unions." Attention was called in the discussion that followed to the fact that there was a large amount of misdirected effort in this city, resulting largely from lack of Christian co-operation. One minister put forward the suggestion that the 124 churches, through organized unity. could be replaced by twenty houses of worship. The proposition was not favorably received. J. C. Shaffer, president of the Y. M. C. A., asked that the association be given more active and effective support of the ministers. They were also asked to join the association in inviting John Wanamaker to speak in this city on Y. M. C. A. work. A motion to this effect was unanimously passed, and it is expected that Mr. Wanamaker will accept and speak some time during this or next month.

GOVERNORS OF THE BOARD.

They Consider Various Matters Brought to Their Attention Regarding Trade Interests.

The governors of the Board of Trade held their regular monthly meeting last evening and transacted considerable business. The first matter of general interest considered was the report of a special committee previously appointed to investigate the operations of transportation boards in other cities with a view to the creation of a similar body by the Board of Trade here. The committee reported the mode of operation of such boards in Chicago and Cincinnati, and recommended the formation of one in this city. A communication from the Mayor of Parkland. Ky., asking aid for the tornado sufferers, was read. It stated that the property damaged was largely owned by laboring men and others unable to sustain the loss, which fact was given as a reason of the application. Colonel Lilly, chairman of the relief committee, stated that a similar application from the same source had been considered by that committee, and it was decided to answer that the relief committee here had exhausted its ability to render such aid at present, but that the communication would be considered later.

A communication from the New York Chamber of Commerce in regard to its action concerning a bill now before the National House of Representatives, was read and referred to the committee on communiand referred to the committee on communi-cations and resolutions. It stated that the Chamber of Commerce had passed resolutions opposing the passage of the bill, which provides for the exclusion of the Chinese from the census enumeration of 1890, because, among other reasons given, it was considered a violation of the treaty of 1880, and the co-operation of the Indianapolis Board of Trade in the action of the New York body was asked. President Tanner suggested that a committee of five for the promotion of manufacturing should be appointed, and authority for its creation was unanimously given. As such committee Mr. Tanner appointed D. P. Erwin, chairman; E. H. Eldridge, Charles F. Sayles, Albert R. Baker and J. A. Wildman.

A communication from the Chicago Board of Trade, asking the co-operation of the Indianapolis board in the action of the first-named body in opposing the But-of Trade, asking the co-operation of the Indianapolis board in the action of the first-named body in opposing the Butterworth bill against option and future dealing, provoked a warm discussion. John M. Shaw favored action by the Board of Trade, whether it accorded with that of the Chicago body or otherwise. He said that law-making bodies were constantly attempting to benefit the agricultural classes through legislation which ultimately militated against them. He cited the meat-inspection bill, now before the United States Senate, as evidence of the fact, and said that it was finally found necessary to amend that measure in accordance with the suggestions of the trade bodies of Indianapolis and other cities. The action of the Chicago Board of Trade on the Butterworth bill was of the same nature. The local board, Mr. Shaw thought, should not dodge the issue raised, but should take some action, even if it opposed that of the Chicago board. Judge Martindale was opposed to action because he thought that other members, like himself, were unacquainted with the provisions of the Butterworth bill, which they were asked to oppose. Gen. R. S. Foster moved that the communication be tabled, which motion was defeated. After further and spirited discussion, the matter was referred to the committee on communications and resolutions, with instructions to report to spirited discussion, the matter was referred to the committee on communications and resolutions, with instructions to report to the next open meeting of the board.

A communication from several tenants of the Board of Trade building, asking that a driven well be supplied to afford a water supply to the building in place of that now furnished by the water company, was read and debated. The matter was referred to the finance committee, with power to act the finance committee, with power to act.

A resolution was adopted providing for the appointment of a committee to urge upon the commission the completion of the soldiers' and sailors' monument by the spring of 1892. The membership committee reported that the papers of two deceased members—Hamilton Hays, of Gosport, and Andrew O. Cherry, of this city—were in proper shape, and recommended an assessment of $4 upon each surviving member to pay the resulting benefits of $1,000 each. The action of the relief committee in giving aid to the families of the deceased firemen was indorsed. A Successful Exhibition.

The gymnastic festival of the Social Turnverein, at Tomlinson Hall last night, brought out a large audience. The entertainment was a thoroughly enjoyable one and the proficiency of those who took part in it reflected great credit upon the instructor, Prof. Wm. Fleck. The various numbers were exceedingly graceful and even bers were exceedingly graceful and even beautiful, especially the calisthenics, in which ninety-six boys, aged from six to fourteen years, took part, and similar marching movements and exercises in which eighty little girls engaged. Members of the senior class, young ladies and young gentlemen, performed a number of more difficult, but equally graceful exercises. The motto of the Turnverein, "Mens Sana in Corpore Sano"—a healthy mind in a healthy body—was displayed upon the stage, and those who took part in the exercises, judging from their rosy cheeks, bright eyes and lithe and graceful bodies, were living up to it.
